As you're on your way back home.
Something catch your eyes untold
Fear of darkness lingers here
You tremble as you get the fear!

Now you on the corner stone
Fearing you'd be left alone
Who will lose who will prevail?
Who will tell the final tale?

There it goes again

Do you know what it take's to be a hero?
When you lost, a piece of love, a piece of you.
Do you have what it takes to beat the fear that's
In your heart, to grow up strong, and redo wrong.
To grow up strong, and undo wrong.

You're walking down that well worn road
Some things changed but who would know
The smiles you get a poisoned well
The colour you once knew is killed
And, as you realize what's wrong
The dirt under you're feet is gone
The enemy looks in your eyes
Now is time to make it right!

You better make it right!

Do you know what it take's to be a hero?
When you lost, a piece of love, a piece of you.
Do you have what it takes to beat the fear that's
In your heart, to grow up strong, and undo wrong.

To grow up strong, and undo wrong.
What it takes to be a hero
To grow up strong and undo wrong
