It happened on a summer morning
At 8:00
I never saw it coming
Things were going fine.
Then my whole life flashed before my eyes

Things have changed
They're not the same
I overcame my worst to get the most out of my life
From now on
I'll sing this song
To remind me of the way things could have been

With a spring in my step
And a smile on my face
I've feel surrounded by amazing grace
A life or death situation came to pass
And put things into place.

Things have changed
They're not the same
I overcame my worst to get the most out of my life
From now on
I'll sing this song
To remind me of the way things could have been [x3]
Things have changed.
