Only you can make me feel
The way that I do now.
There's something to the way I feel
I try to work it out.

And all this time
Through thick and thin
I'll always think of you.
Cause what I've learnt
It's found within
It leaves me feeling new.
You.

Everything that ever will and ever has before
Is looking ever better since I opened up that door
Everything that came before and still is yet to come
Is looking ever better when I think of what you've done

If there's one thing that does appeal
I'll let you know somehow
It's comforting to know you feel
The way that I do now.

Only you can make me feel
The way that I do now.
There's something to the way I feel
I try to work it out.

And all this time
Through thick and thin
I'll always think of you.
Cause what I've learnt
It's found within
It leaves me feeling new.
You.

Everything that ever will and ever has before
Is looking ever better since I opened up that door.
Everything that came before and still is yet to come
Is looking ever better when I think of what you've done.

Everything to me [x2]

Everything, everything, everything to me [x2]
