A fight fought
A battle won
Long before a war has begun
The fabric
Of our being
Is woven in places that no one has seen

Everything that I've become
Will shine through when crisis comes
Compiled from the start
Small choices make us who we really are.

A hero
A man at best
A livelihood put to the test
A taste of
Things to come
We'll see when all is said and done

Everything that I've become
Will shine through when crisis comes
Compiled from the start
Small choices make us who we really are. [x3]
