In the long, hidden past
Was a world just like ours
Once beautiful, but every flower dies

in the soul of the men
Was a heart, brave and red
But cursed hearts can grow an ugly side

But I got you
You got me
Got a chance
I believe
If love will come and break the spell tonight

Only love survives, only love survives

In the land, cold and wet
Is a hope, and a threat
It came crawling through the cover of the night
In the fear of defeat
Is a chance I believe
To return to who we once were meant to be

But I got you
You got me
Got a chance
I believe
If love will come and break the spell tonight

I got hope
There's a way
We can make it one more day
If love will come and break the spell tonight

Only love survives, only love survives
