Change, that's what you said to me
That's the excuse you used to leave
But truth be told I never wanted you around,
Now I sit here with an empty pack of smokes,
Intoxicate my lung trying to calm me down,
It does not seem to work anymore,
It seems to hit me harder than I thought because of...

What she said, What she said
Chance that what I've got to take,
Try not to blink as I drive down this road,
And I start to brake.
My mind is slipping away to a beautiful place
As glass shatters my face

What she said, what she said

Today's the day to pray I'm on my knees again...
