

Allan Hall

"Scorns of time"

Visit "Scorns of time" on MotoLyrics.com

I am a captain out on a journey
Still have a long way till I ride
I take no prisoners
No one goes with me
I find no shelter from the scorns of time
I felt a shiver
When autumn breaks through
And says goodbye to wide summer skies
I've heard the rain pour
Though it might drown me
But still I walk through the scorns of time

And in my right hand
I hold my sorrow
And with my left hand
I reach for joy
We're all soldiers
Whether we fall or fight
None can run from the scorns of time

Without a dark sky there'll be no sunrise
Without a thorn there is no road
I'll have my triumph, my shelter of victory
When this battle comes to a close

And in my right hand
I hold my sorrows
And with my left hand
I reach for joy
We're all soldiers
Whether we fall or fight
None can run from the scorns of time
Ohm, none can run from the scorns of time

Visit Allan Hall page on MotoLyrics.com, to get more lyrics and videos.