Turn me down
Let your favorite little melody drown me out

Push me down
Let your favorite little chemical wash me out

Turn me down
Let your favorite little melody drown me out
Let your favorite little fantasy push me down Let your favorite escape of the day take you away

Cover the shame, cover the pain
Just hide your face Your heart is the same, your mask doesn't change it but it's easier to fake Love is the same, love is the same even when you run away Love is a game, love is a game that the world won't play

Escapists have their needs
A mask for make believe

And I see you falling down
And the real you calling out

You're running away, you're running away but you still feel the same Love is alive, love is alive as you run from paradise Love is awake, love is awake let it take your place Open your eyes, open your eyes to the infinite skies
