"Remind These Wings Of Infinite Skies"

The dream to fly you've already given me feel your Spirit burning inside Try to breathe your love and breathe out the lies coming down trying to break me
coming down trying to break me

So come subdue me, conquer me, carry me through this fire to the other side And remind these wings of infinite skies because time's trying to break me
because time's trying to break me

I keep losing sight of the way hanging on to a piece of yesterday
hanging on to a piece of yesterday Why won't I just fly away and trust you just to lead the way trust you just to lead the way

I can feel it from miles away coming on with the face of yesterday
coming on with the face of yesterday My Savior fly me away redeeming the dream you placed in me
redeeming the dream you placed in me
