It's in your head that's what you said. I'm not supposed to be like them. It stays the same you'll never change you'll never open up anyway. Why would you waste your time? Don't judge me just sit back and take a look at yourself. You said this time you were leaving and that you didn't feel the same. You said that I was the reason that we ended up this way. My feelings won't change tomorrow. For once this time open your eyes, turn off the lights. Don't look down on me. You are all you can see. Don't look down on me. With the words in the back of your mind sit back and watch this time. Just open up your eyes. You said this time you were leaving and that you didn't feel the same well I think that your wrong. Don't look down on me. You are all you can see. Don't look down on me. Don't look down.
