Waiting for this night to come to an end and for a better day to begin. This place that I have grown to know and I hope that it showed. Things are never the same the second time around face in the ground take a ride on this merry-go-round. (Merry-go-round) watching us spin around. (Merry-go-round) watching us spin around. There you go watching us spin around. These days walking around with a fake expression on my face. So many events in my life, but I can't put this one in it's place. (Merry-go-round) watching us spin around. (Merry-go-round) watching us spin around. There you go watching us spin around. Merry-go-round watching us spin around and around and around. Merry-go-round watching us spin around. Merry-go-round watching us fall down. Merry-go-round watching us fall down, down.
