You're going deeper,
It's getting darker,
You're thinking under,
You're thinking under.

Is this real or is it fear,
Take this mind, make it clear,
Thoughts collide, sanity survives,
But living ends when angst arrives,
Words are drugs in this state,
A ray of light then they fade,
Quick relief, then it creeps, then it comes,
Then it's...
All made up by fear and then it's lived by you,
This painful view isn't all true,
It's everything you're afraid of,
A manifested, mind infested,
Made up world, fear of self.

Breaking through the weakness,
Living through the darkness,
Screaming through the silence,
You can live again.

In the safe haven, the sacred hole,
You brave the company of your soul,
You're all alone in the hollow zone,
Don't wanna be touched by your own,
Your own kind that roam inside,
And know the tracks of your life,
The lost life buried deep,
But you know you can find,
A way to understand what you're afraid of,
Salvation's found in a little prey,
For a moment you are there,
Then you're back here again,
Begging for release.

Breaking through the weakness,
Living through the darkness,
Screaming through the silence,
You can live again.

Thinking under.

Don't let your wisdom make you suffer,
You're going deeper thinking under,
In the hole, down below,
Where light gets dim, mood is cold,
No mercy to the voices that call your name,
That call your bluff, it's a fucking
Aaaaaaaaaaaaaargh
A mental one that's gone a stray,
Take your self and get away,
So when they come, you'll be gone,
You'll be here living again.
Again,
Again,
Again,
Again.

Breaking through the weakness,
Living through the darkness,
Screaming through the silence,
You can live again.

Live again,
Live again,
Live again,
Live again.
