"Reoccurring Wounds"

The valley's of our lives.
When will we climb out into the full understanding?
I'm blinded, confused, by many mistakes, we've repeated.
Over and over again.
Will we ever learn; with all the bridges, burnt?

When will we surrender?
The resurrected plot, and not forfeit the truth.

Open up our eyes,
To convictions that history etched to remind us of bleeding.
Through compromise, decisions were made with
ignorance,
We felt like repeating, again.
Will we ever learn; with all the bridges, we burnt?

When will we surrender?
The resurrected plot, and not forfeit the truth.

The resurrected plot, and not forfeit the truth.
