I still love you just a little bit
Even though you're so inconsiderate
It's your smile, there's something that it does to me

I break down thinking that it's over now
Then you leave me breathless, only you know how
But this time I've already made up my mind

I'm like oh, oh, giving me another line
It's like oh, oh, I've heard it all a thousand times

'Cause you always seem to leave out something
But if you're with me it's all or nothing
All you need to know is I'm not scared of letting go
You were everything I thought I wanted

Now it's goodbye, I saw it coming
You've done this to me a thousand times
And that's one more reason why I hate you

You thought I was so innocent
Until you finally pushed me to my limit
It's your style, you know just how to get to me

I break out thinking that it's alright
Then I stay, I'm thinking 'bout you every night
I can't explain how you keep doing this to me

I'm like oh, oh, giving me another line
It's like oh, oh, I've heard it all a thousand times

'Cause you always seem to leave out something
But if you're with me it's all or nothing
All you need to know is I'm not scared of letting go
You were everything I thought I wanted

Now it's goodbye, I saw it coming
You've done this to me a thousand times
And that's one more reason why I hate you

And I never thought I'd lose so much to Someone who gives me nothing

And now I know what you'll say every time
And that's one more reason why

'Cause you always seem to leave out something
But if you're with me it's all or nothing
All you need to know is I'm not scared of letting go
You were everything I thought I wanted

Now it's goodbye, I saw it coming
You've done this to me a thousand times
And that's one more reason why I hate you
And that's one more reason why
