I've never felt so burnt out before
And I wonder what I've become and I forgot all the things I promised you
Cause you left me like a setting sun
And someone stole you from me
With all the things I wanted to be
And now I've come undone
And you're not around to see it cause you're gone

If you ever find a way, let me know if I'm forgiven
Cause if you never find a way, my life won't be worth living

I've never felt so burnt out before and I wonder what I've become
And I forgot all the things I promised you
Cause you left me like a setting sun
Someone stole you from me with all the things I wanted to be

And now I've come undone
And you're not around to see it cause you're gone

If you ever find a way to let me know if I'm forgiven
Cause if you never find a way, my life won't be worth
living

What's in the past is in the past
I just wish sometimes it would last
For one more day
What's in the past is in the past
I just wish sometimes it would last
Cause I've got more to say

If you ever find a way let me know if I'm forgiven
Cause if you never find a way, my life won't be worth
living
