I just wanna wake up where you are.
I just thought it'd never be this hard
To learn how to let go of everyone I know,
And that has left me out here on my own.

Hurry up 'cause I'm not waiting for you to give your love
to me.
I don't wanna know how it ends.
This will never break until it bends.
But I've learned how to let go of everyone I know,
And that has left me out here on my own.

Hurry up 'cause I'm not waiting for you to give your love me.
Hurry up 'cause I'm not trading all this love for free.

Sunrise, sunset, how soon we forget that we're still young.
Sunrise, sunset, how soon we regret what we've become.

Hurry up 'cause I'm not waiting for you to give your love
to me.
Hurry up 'cause I'm not trading all this love for free.
Hurry up 'cause I'm not waiting for you to give your love
to me.
(I just thought it'd never be this hard to learn how to let go of everyone I know and that has left me out here on my own)
Hurry up 'cause I'm not trading all this love for free.
