It's not a hard decision to make
If you could step away
And think like you're watching you
Of what you could stand to lose
And what it is that makes you you

Everything else is in orbit around you
Swirling a crystalline blanket surrounding

You are impierceable
You are intangible
And you wreck me daily
Godspeed your noble climb
I'm rooting for you
As the sediment cracks
I sense a presence
Being brought to life
And I'm pushed aside

A satellite planet was once on the inside
Now I'm burning from overexposure to sunlight

Just go on and go
Don't look back
Don't you think I know
That you're already gone
I'll be here
Cheering you on

Go
Get up on your way
No one will know
I'll tell them that I woke up alone today
And now you're better off believing in you

Everything else is in orbit around you
Swirling a crystalline blanket surrounding you

Just go on and go
Don't look back
Don't you think I know

That you're already gone
I'll be here
Cheering you on
I'll be here
Cheering you on
I'll be here
