Still pitch dark when I fall out of bed
Seems an instant since I laid my head
I'm barely awake but I'm already late
For my chance to get out of the red

I see foreman much more than my wife
I'm loosen time in my one only life
I'm locked in a style watching all the bills pile
Destined to siphon my blood

On your mark and get set
Go boy, take what you can get
By the moonlight, we'll fight
At the pace of the human race tonight

Hear the gunshot, let's go
Blow by everyone you know
By the moonlight, we'll fight
At the pace of the human race tonight

I come run-in right out of the gate
Can't catch my breath or slow my heart rate
I can't compete with the fear of defeat
If the market's deciding my fate

On your mark and get set
Go boy, take what you can get
By the moonlight, we'll fight
At the pace of the human race tonight

Hear the gunshot, let's go
Blow by everyone you know
At the pace of the human race tonight<
Let's go, let's go
Blow by everyone we know
Let's go, let's go
At the pace of the human race tonight

At the pace of the human race tonight
