Well how could I forget
The years that I regret
Of letting you break me
You used love as an excuse
To conquer and abuse
And overtake me
I need to leave
There's times that I had felt like I had never dealt
With the things that were killing me
I'd find a place to hide, to leave my fears behind
But they seem to always find me
I need to leave

Don't leave the light on, I'll be long gone
I'm no longer the Prince Of Pain
Don't leave the light on, you were so wrong
And I'll never turn around again

And all these wasted days
Could never find a way
To leave this God forsaken town
But I've found a way this time

To leave the lights behind
Til I find a way to turn them down, again

Don't leave the light on, cause I'll be long gone
I'm no longer the Prince Of Pain
Don't leave the light on you were so wrong
And I'll never turn around again

I'm trading in my crown. This time I won't look down
I'll keep on looking straight ahead this time
I'm trading in my crown, this time I won't turn around
Til I take what's mine

Don't leave the light on, cause I'll be long gone
I'm no longer the Prince Of Pain
Don't leave the light on you were so wrong
And I'll never turn around again
