

Alma Mater "Born Again"

Visit "Born Again" on MotoLyrics.com

Lurching the sky in a cold winters night
You search all the things you have left behind...
In the stars

Your skin feels cold, the wind blows in your hair
You feel the nothing your end is there...
In the space

The black maiden is coming to take your breath
She's thirsty of blood and you are in her way
Shell bring you your rest, the rest

You stare at the moon, the beauty is she
One light among darkness, the buoy in your sea...
Your believes

Your skin feels colder, deeper your dreams
Your heart gets slower, now you're in peace...
Your soul flies

The black maiden is coming to take your breath
She's thirsty of blood and you are in her way
Shell bring you your rest, the rest

Lurching the sky in a cold winter's night
You search all the things you have left behind
Your skin feels cold, the wind blows in your hair
You search the nothing, you'll end there

Born inside you with a diferent sense
Back new in this world owing of your face...
In the same place

Returned from your travel, from very far
Again living under the moon and the stars...
Youve born again

The black maiden is coming to take your breath
She's thirsty of blood and you are in her way
Shell bring you your rest, the rest

