You're so far away.
I guess I never thought you'd stay.
So go back the way you came.
Through the hole I let you make.

When the angel comes to take me home.
I guess that I'll still be alone.
When the time comes or I've had enough.
I hope to see you as I'm going up.

I never wanted it to be this way.
To sit and watch you as you run away.
Baby Jesus hold my hand.
I lost the will to understand.

When the angel comes to take me home.
I guess that I'll still be alone.
When the time comes or I've had enough.
I hope to see you as I'm going up.
