Misguided by the scriptures surrounding religious beliefs

Each manipulator a friend of his own deceit

Interpretations vary from genius to absurd

But the truth can never be written or heard

Believer or not, manipulation is being exercised through you

Following ancient books or mainstream ideas, it is all dogmas

Including each and every aspect of all that is

Summons madness into a being born in this synthesis

An individual crying to the heavens in his divine search

Understands nothing of the complexity of death and birth

Striving to erase all forms of adversity

Oblivious to all things? necessity

Denying the existential complexity

Of the shadows that light creates

Crushing the obsolete framework with an infusion of spirit!

Behind the thoughts lies all answers

Beyond what carnal eyes allows you to see

Behold, awake and see all others

Screaming for water while floating in the sea

Within the reasoning of each liar lies one grain of truth

And behind all the various forms of fear lies the core they seek

Each to their own god, all have their own bible and heed it's call

Especially those who claim to believe in nothing at all

Striving to erase all forms of adversity

Oblivious to all things? necessity

Denying the existential complexity
