looking at the past of my life and i thought it was messed up then i got a thought in my head that had me thinking that it was all on me i never thought that it be like that when i got out in the real world lost, confused, drowned, and don't know what to do that's when i had found, found some real love that showed me the way and now im feeling all better or so that's what i say somewhere deep inside me is just broked down but can i realease it i dont know how i wanna let it go but hey it stayed grouned get away from the sorrow and pain but it rebound it's way beck inside of me and don't wanna leave do exsercism on me to make me scream get it out of me so i can jus leave so i can live my right dream and found the part of me that move up to the sky and not looking back let all the anger go and just whith that i am strong and i know but it making me blow my self-esteem it's not listning to me how hard it could be let me think for a minute maybe it can be true that i know a way but will i be through in this lifetime din't want it to happen that's why im saying that it always gonna happen cause im scared of the lost the hurt and the pain and the agony it to much for me that's why it get at me im trying to maintain this lifestyle that im living but know it hurting my head and im thinking about leaving!!!
