I was down in the darkness
I lived in some kind of endless nights
Never saw the light
A cold dark sky
I tried my best to live
The daylight still is gone

I have my reasons to hold on
Climbed the hard way to reach for the moon

I still believe, that this crazy thrill of mine,
Made me grow to a kind, who will reach for the sky
Where angels lead the way
I still believe, remember who you are
Open your eyes
See where you are
The light will lead you on

I was a human disaster.
I wasn't clear of what was going on.
Nothing reached me inside.
Or was it the inside that could not get out?
I was afraid. Life spun on wheels.

I have my reasons to hold on.
Climbed the hard way to reach for the moon.

I still believe, that this crazy thrill of mine,
Made me grow to a kind, who will reach for the sky
Where angels lead the way
I still believe, remember who you are
Open your eyes
See where you are
The light will lead you on

SOLO

With strength of my heart and the will to feel love
again,
I climbed myself up,
The sun broke the dawn.

I still believe, that this crazy thrill of mine,
Made me grow to a kind, who will reach for the sky
Where angels lead the way
I still believe, remember who you are
Open your eyes
See where you are
The light will lead you on
