Preoccupied Iâ'd say
Iâ'm caught up in the better days
So long to the tick tock in my brain
The countdown to the day
Iâ'm singing out loud
Hey Iâ'm on my feet
Without you babe
The remedy
To a pain so close to third degree
Of the heart
When it was never meant to be

Oh and why be so blue
If I never needed you
To live my life?

Donâ't stop me â'cause Iâ'm doing so fine
See I made it out alive
I should have known
I should have known better
And Iâ'll thank you later for the favor
Donâ't stop me â'cause Iâ'm doing so well
You might have put me through hell
When you said that you were leaving me
Yeah I was a wreck
But it was everything I needed
In the end.

I was sipping a coke out here
In the sun
Thinking how could I have ever
Thought my life was somehow
Done and dead and gone
Iâ'm a liar if I said
I wasnâ't wrong when Iâ'm
Laughing to myself whenever he calls
Now I tend to let it ring
It used to hurt but now
Iâ'm hitting delete on my message machine

Because why be so blue
If I never needed you

To live my life?

Don't stop me 'cause I'm doing so fine
See I made it out alive
I should have known
I should have known better
And I'll thank you later for the favor
Don't stop me 'cause I'm doing so well
You might have put me through hell
When you said that you were leaving me
Yeah I was a wreck
But it was everything I needed
In the end.

My lover left me in a daze
Midday in a cinematic summer haze
But icy eyes were freezing mine
Kind of like this sense of time
I never knew it till I lived my life
I lived my life
And here you are again
Here you are tonight
Tonight

Don't stop me 'cause I'm doing so fine
See I made it out alive
I should have known
I should have known better
And I'll thank you later for the favor
Don't stop me 'cause I'm doing so well
You might have put me through hell
When you said that you were leaving me
Yeah I was a wreck
But it was everything I needed
In the end.
