There's a life I wanna lead,
But how can I lead it if you're not with me?
I find myself, feelin' free,
Only when I'm working on this... melody.

When I loose faith, I just close my eyes.
And when you reappear, it's never a surprise,
That I'm right back where I'm, I'm supposed to be,
And it was all because you're always there for me

Some people swear that, you won't change their minds,
But I know better, so I'm gonna try!

Having a bad day, it's nothing normally,
But if you were not around, it would effect me!
So I think for the time being, I'll ignore sadness,
And push away anything close to unhappiness!

Some people are so, set in their own ways,
But I know better, so watch me make a change!

We had this conversation yesterday, I told you not to worry and to trust,
Trust when I say...

The SUNSHINE is, just around the bend!
Leave the clouds behind and guess what happens then?
You're right back where you're, you're supposed to be,
And all it took was a deep breath to bring you back to reality.

Some people need to, know their whole life's course,
But I know better, it's something that you just can't force!

So take a walk with me, down RELAXATION LANE,
And not sweating the small stuff is what will, keep all of us sane!
And I found a life, that is worth leading,
And it's all because you were always there for me.
