I'm fading in and out, the world is dimming now.
I'm sitting on the fence and I can't find my way, my way down.
I'm afraid your words have fallen on deaf ears but keep talking, just keep Talking.
Will I find my way again? Help me find the way.
The changes that you're facing will get better with time.
(Get better with
Time)
The steps that you're taking are all a part of the climb.
(It's all a part
Of the climb)
You've been hiding in your shell so break out, break out.
I'm so used to being the clear headed one, my intuition disappeared with
The setting sun.
It disappeared with the setting sun. It disappeared.
The changes that you're facing will get better with time.
(Get better with
Time)
The steps that you're taking are all a part of the climb.
This time I wont let you go. I wont let you go.
You say "it gets better with time" and I'm hanging on every line.
I've been treading for so long, treading toward the sun.
