You can only run and fake who you are-
For so long, you'll die inside and find out how hard it is-
So come back now.
Say your prayers-
Get ready to meet your maker.
The storm is raging-
There's no use running-
They're gonna throw you overboard.
"Don't run away my child.
Come back in my arms.
I know you may stumble-
I wont let you fall."
And if you go far, you wont know who you are-
And if you go far, you wont know who to fear.
Lets see what your made of.
They're gonna tear you apart.
If you don't wake up-
You'll be mistaken for a dead man.
