"Tangles"

Tangles that tie us up and choke right down our breathing.
Thrown sparks and stakes so high, I'm losing against reason.
Chip away with ease, just thoughts help shatter off the pieces.
Turn away this ruined face, all control is fleeting.

Oh Oh Oh.

Pressed against this cotton chest, hide me in the creases.
I've got blame that ricochets off every point of interest.
Colours I will learn to hate as they become reminders.
Collapse into a rainbow sea and swim against the brightness.

Oh Oh Oh.

I can't sit by.

I'm taking time and losing time.
