There is a tremendous lover who would like to share
His wondrous love story with all those who would care
To listen to his still small voice he doesn't like to yell
And if you stop and take a chance I know you'll hear him tell

Chorus

I...your soul's friend

I...your soul's love

I...your soul's hope

I wanna be your soulmate, your soulmate

The search it will continue leading you down many roads

It seems very attractive but in truth you're very alone

It's a trick of deception of clever placed distraction

Leaving your spirit earth bound, never to soar

Repeat chorus

There is a tremendous lover who would love to share
His wondrous love story with all those who would care

Repeat chorus
