Sometimes I'm a liar sometimes I'm a fake sometimes I'm a hypocrite that everybody hates sometimes I'm a poet sometimes I'm a preacher sometimes I watch life go by sitting on the bleacher

But I've never been left alone in any problem that I've known even though I'm to blame there were times when things were dark and I've been known to miss the mark but someone fixed my aim

Sometimes I'm a man of God
sometimes I'm alright
sometimes I lay down close my eyes and pray to God

Sometimes I don't feel good it's hard to start the day it's hard to climb the obstacles that sometimes come my way if I make it, I'm a good man am I a bad man if I fail?

I know I'm never good enough so I let grace prevail

But I've never been left alone
in any problem that I've known

sometimes I lay down close my eyes
and pray to God I'm ready for the night
