I see the beauty in the scene
The pulsing hearts, the pounding beats I'm holding everything inside and hope the stars align tonight
Don't close your eyes just stare in mine
Watch colors fade suspend in time
Our love at last just you and I.

Let's hide ourselves from everyone
Just take my hand and we can run
As moments freeze let's make believe
We'll always be forever young
Soon the night will come, our silhouettes in the setting
sun

I feel the heat, the summer scene
Like standing in a living dream
Like flashing lights from movie screens
This feels so right I can't believe We sit so still, so close, so near
These hearts will wave so loud and clear
Let's close our eyes and disappear.

Let's hide ourselves from everyone
Just take my hand and we can run
As moments freeze let's make believe
We'll always be forever young
Soon the night will come, our silhouettes in the setting
sun

Let's hide ourselves from everyone
Just take my hand and we can run
As moments freeze let's make believe
We'll always be forever young
Soon the night will come.

Let's hide ourselves from everyone
Just take my hand and we can run
As moments freeze let's make believe
We'll always be forever young
Soon the night will come, two silhouettes in the setting
sun.
