You're still online way past bedtime, it's a bad sign Two mice, square eyes until sunrise, online all night long

The webmasters rule in this age of digital crime
Your roots won't determine if you will succeed Cyber century's electronic rules

In a big fight with your website, can't get it right See the bright side, your friends they might think you?
re alright

We can't stop all these chances when they're ready to come
When we are ready to change
I have troubles to keep up, when does it come to a stop?

The webmasters rule in this age of digital crime
Cyber century's electronic rules, yeah

Technology is cool until we're fucked and our brains give up
