All alone, there's no one I can play my song to A crowded room, isn't there somewhere, someone Who listens to the antonyms of my song
Feel like someone else someone took my words
While I was sleeping
I just pretend to be finer personality you will see here
The pain oh how it feels
They make the rules for me
I want to be like them, they have cool friends everywhere
It makes me feel so sad, they can see but they don't care
Look you're not the only one, I also want to be someone Look you're not the only, you are not the only one there is
You are not the only one
