you're falling out again you're bending at the knees she calls you over there is nothing we can say to you but we won't laugh this time your friends are on your side but there's no closure when the end won't justify the means when all you need is some attention and your friends don't seem the same a face with no name and all you need is some affection you know she forgets your name cause if that's what you want you can have it friends don't matter nothing to you pointless girls are what you're into choosing girls over your friends it has no dignity cause she won't be your bride your friends will always be there till you die how will this story end?

sufficing all your needs but what's left over but a selfish friend that I can't stand the search goes on and on realities off track and you get nowhere unless you find what you're searching for a pretty girl who's gonna use you an easy thing to ascertain when you have no shame passive grounds and girls abuse you what did you expect from them when you cry and beg her stay forever there's no bound that you won't go to a submissive angle can't respect you anything you say has lost its credibility wont stop at seventeen the tragic end won't justify the means
