

American Heartbreak

"The Everlasting Fall"

Visit "The Everlasting Fall" on MotoLyrics.com

Wakin' up late, a grey Sunday mourning
Got up on the wrong side, so go back to bed
Newspaper says, it's gonna be raining
At least until Wednesday, but I pay no mind
The wonder of it all
Caught up in the everlasting fall
Watch the years roll by
Counting shooting stars across the sky
You can wait a whole lifetime to figure out
The best days are the ones we forgot about
I can't complain, it's been such a mild winter
Flip on the TV, those shows that we love
The sun will go down, on a north Tulsa sky line
Over and over, like the day before
The wonder of it all
Caught up in the everlasting fall
Watch the years roll by
Counting shooting stars across the sky
You can wait a whole lifetime to figure out
The best days are the ones we forgot about
We know everything must have an end, we can't pretend
It's so nice of you to stick around
The wonder of it all
Caught up in the everlasting fall
Watch the years roll by
Counting shooting stars across the sky
(2x) You can wait a whole lifetime to figure out
The best days are the ones we forgot about
The best days are the ones we forgot about

Visit American Heartbreak page on MotoLyrics.com, to get more lyrics and videos.