"Hurry Back"

This summer was a time of sharing thoughts of love
A very special love that cannot be broken Now comes the time we have to part
This will test the love we share in our hearts Hurry back come back to me it's a long road that keep us apart
Let once more share the love that we have in our hearts
Time goes by so slowly
Now that you are not by my side Pictures of you flash through my mind thinking of what you might be doing
Wishing you were here why must you be away Hurry back come back to me it's a long road that keep
us apart
I need you here today come back to me
Come back right away
Hurry Back come back to me it's a long road that keep
us apart
