I was on my way to the center of the sun
When I lost my wings and I fell into the crowd
And they carried me to a hole in the ground
And they buried me
Where no one can see and no one would be around

I, I am a virus
I, I, I live in silence, I

I was on my way to a city in the clouds
When I lost my mind and I had to settle down

Then I had a dream of an island in the sea
Where the lepers die
Where no one survives, no one can hear their cries

I, I am a virus
I, I, I live in silence, I

Just like heathens thinking on our feat
When they believe in God
We're one step, two step
Three steps towards the graveyards
Hello to the memory, it seems that we forgot

I, I am a virus
I, I, I live in silence, I
