What do you do when you've been so in love that you have everything to lose and her tears aren't enough to change your mind and we've been to the top but now we're starting to fall back down to the bottom and we're losing it all and i mean that this time

I'm holding you, i feel you breath I've missed you more then anything (i miss you)
I'm holding you, i feel you breath I've missed you more then anything (i look at you) and i say, "baby baby are you gonna be alright" she puts her arms around me and then she starts to cry she says " i will always love you no matter where this goes"

and you don't have to say a word cause i already know what do you say to her when everything you say hurts she said your breaking my heart i said you broke mine first she says i miss you

and i swear i mean that i said i love you
but you wont understand i cant be with you
and I'm so sorry
ill really miss you
and when you need me, ill be there

"baby baby are you gonna be alright"
she puts her arms around me and then she starts to cry
she says " i will always love you no matter where this
goes"
and you don't have to say a word cause i already know

she says i miss you

i cant be with you

goes"
