"Round and Round"

Another night
Is only leading to another day
I'm alright
But I want even more than just "okay"
We're all the same
We're all just trying to find our way
So why contain
All those things we wanna say

Round and round
Round and round we go again
We're all the same
We're all just trying to find our way

Just trying to make sense of it all
Know that I'll be there if you call
These are just the things we're going through
Cause you are just like me
And I am just like you
