So you want me to play the bleeding role
Just so he can know how I needed you.
Well that's okay with me, it's a part I think I know
God knows he won't need to suspend belief.
I know it's just a game and losing you's
How it just begins...ain't that a funny way to win
So I run around dragging people down
Holding my broken heart like a cheap cartoon
Just so he can see it's a sucker who Does to you what you did to me
I know it's just a game and losing you's
How it just begins...ain't that a funny way to win
So if there's another need that I can still serve
I'm low on self esteem but I'm high on nerve
