You sent greetings from Liverpool and I took the next train Passed by people putting flowers on graves and We got delayed
When I arrived you had vanished like steam and left me in a diesel day So I walked around and spent ten pounds in amusement arcades Felt like I was in a field
looking for a pin
It's a kind of loneliness
It's a kind of emptiness
But I'm not trying I'm just rehearsing
For the perfect day
When I want you, I'll come looking for you Yes I will, yes I will, yes I will.
I took a spoon to the swimming pool to drain your trace away
And I changed my name so only my looks remain
And if looks could kill I'd need a license for my face
'Cos where his fists put bruises

A scheming smile now takes their place

Felt like I was in a field

looking for a pin

It's a kind of loneliness

It's a kind of emptiness

But I'm not trying I'm just rehearsing

For the perfect day

Yes I will, yes I will, yes I will
