Well I've heard that you're married now
And I've heard that you don't fool around
Well I guess you can hold him down
Bet he's kissin' the marks that you leave in the ground

Well I'm happy for your happiness
But you'll be lonely beyond loneliness

Bonsior Madame
I know who you are Madame
you used to be a Mademoiselle
I know you to well
Bonsior Madame
I know who you are Madame
you used to be the Mademoiselle
Who send me to hell

So he thinks your a normal girl
He don't know that you threw things around
He believes in a perfect world
He ain't got a clue as to what he's found

Still I'm happy for your happiness
But you'll be lonely beyond loneliness

Bonsior Madame
I know who you are Madame
You used to be a Mademoiselle
I know you to well
Bonsior Madame
I know who you are Madame
you used to be the Mademoiselle
Who send me to hell

Bonsior Madame...
..you send me to hell...
