I pray the day you will never end
You said you'd call me
If you change your mind
And wanted to go home

And I felt this coming like a storm
And then the rain began to pour
I knew I'd fall a sleep alone

And as much as I wish I could be by your side
I know I can't erase what you've done
And the times that I've tried
And the lies you've denied
I knew there is no turning back now

I don't want this to hurt
I already have my scars in the words
You say you just run me apart
Tables have turned
So now you've got my heart
And it hurts cause it's still on fire

And now I cry
Cause there's nothing left but a "Goodbye"
Everything just feels like one big lie
And in time you'll find
That if you play with fire
You'll always get burned

I know I was the only one
Who heard the wrong things
You had done behind you
So you could start again

And I now sometimes I made it hard
But I swear I never would have thought
That you could
Just move on like that

And as much as I wish I could be by your side
I know I can't erase what you've done

And the times that I've tried
And the lies you've denied
I knew there is no turning back now

I don't want this to hurt
I already have my scars in the words
You say you just run me apart
Tables have turned
So now you've got my heart
And it hurts cause it's still on fire

And now I cry
Cause there's nothing left but a "Goodbye"
Everything just feels like one big lie
And in time you'll find
That if you play with fire
You'll always get burned

And now all the words
You couldn't bring yourself to say
Are more clearer then ever

I'm not gonna listen anymore
If she wants to take you let her

Let her know in your chest is my heart
Don't forget I'm still here
I'm alive
I am burned but I'll survive

I felt this coming like a storm
And then the rain began to pour
I knew you weren't sleeping alone
