You say you need protection
You called me late last night again
Long walk cold night you're lonely
But I hear some one else's voice
I wont be there this time to save you
But I hope his hands are softer than mine
Cause I am bound to be found in this dying love affair

Lets try not to throw it away this time
One drink past nowhere
You told me it was over
I'll give you one more chance
So maybe if you're lucky you'll find someone else
To walk you home tonight

Another skit performed
Right down to perfection
I must have missed the cue
Falling victim to those cruel creations
Of a star stuck memory
Yet we dance with these harmonies

Lets try not to throw it away this time
One drink past nowhere
You told me it was over
I'll give you one more chance
So maybe if you're lucky you'll find someone else
To walk you home tonight

Running circles around the facts
You the truth behind my back
But your the one that's miserable
Satisfaction only comes when I admit that you have one
Another trophy on your shelf next to a loaded gun

One drink past nowhere you told me it was over
One drink past nowhere you told me you were sober

You drank your life away, you drank your life
You drank your life away, you drank your life
