The ghouls and goblins dance around
In tempo to that frenzied sound
The demon's stomping shakes the ground
To the strains of Hades Greenish Crown
Beelzebub, the devil reknowned
Laughs at death where gnomes abound
The sinister, searing notes resound
With the strains of Hades Greenish Crown
The see-through faces wear no frowns
The rotted corpses leap and bound
There's waltzing on the burial mound
With the strains of Hades Greenish Crown
The scorching hell that Dante found
Throbs with music all year round
That headless horseman begins to clown
With each refrain of the Greenish Crown
The rotted corpses leap and bound
There's waltzing on the burial mound
To the strains of strains of strains of strains
To the strains of Hades Greenish Crown
So mortals beware, the chords confound
Stay clear when you hear that ghostly sound
The floating regions sepulchral and brown
It's the strains of Hades greenish crown
