I wish there were something
That I could have done to please you
But what can I do to make you change your mind

Why don't you call me
And tell me the things that you used to
I hope that someday you'll
Be coming around just to say

I need you
I miss you
I want you

So come on, come on

What is he like
The man of your obsession
Give me a clue
If there is there's anything I can do

Why don't you stop your searching
For adventure
Why don't you calm down
And call me just to say

I need you...
