Hold your breath forever 'cause I can't bare to hear you speak.

You should bite your tongue, save your lies,

You're just a flavor of the week.

You walk around with your head up high

Like the world owes you everything,

But in reality you have it out for me

'Cause I can't stand the way you sing, you bitch.

I hope you know that we're all laughing at you.

Fabricate the words you say, you're a fad in every way.

I see right through the things you say and you do.

I can see but why can't they? You are fading day by day.

You fall short of the lies you told.

Everybody knows that you're a fake.

I can see in your eyes,

You're just a bitch in disguise,

You fall harder with every step that you take.

You're not what you think.

You're just a knock-off version of the person you are trying to be.

You're not anything.

Stop trying, you're a joke, keep failing cause you're trying to be me.

I hope you know that we're all laughing at you.

Fabricate the words you say, you're a fad in every way.

I see right through the things you say and you do.

I can see but why can't they? You are fading day by day.

You'll never be me
