A couple miles, we're almost there, smack dab in the middle of nowhere,
Well this ol place will always feel like home,
Man this town has really changed, but I swear it feels the same, all up and down these roads we'd roam, I wanna show you, the livin that I've done, just let me show you, where it is that I come from, right here,

This is where I discovered love, and where I learn about the one above, and where I was young and crazy,
This is where I became a man, I faced those demons and I took my stand, and where I learned your heart could be broken
And this is where it all went down,
This is my ol' Stompin Ground.

Over there is where I played ball, man I felt about ten feet tall, when I came up to bat they'd all back up,
And there we'd hide by the light of the moon, and hit the cars with our water balloons, and right there is where I rolled my truck,
I wanna show you, the livin that I've done, just let me show you, where it is that I come from, it's right here,

This is where I discovered love, and where I learn about the one above, and where I was young and crazy, this is where I became a man, I faced those demons and I took my stand, and where I learned your heart could be broken,
And this is where it all went down,
This is my ol' Stompin Ground.

I'll never lose those feelings or memories, there a part of me, my legacy, it's my history,

This is where I learned to fight, and I felt the heat until I saw the light, and where I learned that sometimes you don't win,
This is where I found my best friend, we stuck together through thick and thin, I can't believe the things we did back then,

This is where I discovered love, and where I learn about the one above, and where I was young and crazy,
And this is where it all went down,
This is my ol' Stompin Ground, my Stompin Ground
This is my ol Stompin Ground, It's my Stompin Ground.
