[George "The Mask" Adams:]

Pain...

Sorrow and pain grow like dust, things they went too far this time

Lust and power have become an obsession, words are flying like venomous arrows

Money and power, lust and greed... To be is just to be perceived

[Tommy "The Touch" Wolf:]

Numbers...

Numbers don't lie we all know, I can still foresee so many things

The theatre of our mind is always open, a little touch is all I need

Love and justice, passion and peace... You can try but can't have it all

[George:]

Hey man, I'm stuck here and feel betrayed by you

[Tommy:]

Hey you, believe in what's real without any proof

[George:]

Guilt...

My blame and guilt are frozen... Well, nothing stays the same anyway

Unlikely for Tommy and his beloved cane, justice created addiction

Love and justice, passion and peace... To be is just to be perceived

Hey man, I'm stuck here and feel betrayed by you

[Tommy:]

Hey you, believe in what's real without any proof

[Rev. Mike "The Faith" Simmons:]

(Thy will be done...)

Hey man, your enemy lies inside of you... (Thy will be done...)

Hey you, will you ever erase the World with a nuke?

Armageddon...

[Rev. Simmons to Tommy:]

Unless you want to be there... Are you sure you want to spin that wheel again?

I could have never changed your mind... You'll never be the same again...

[Rev. Simmons to George:]

Unless you want to be there and feel like a man walking on the moon

There's always just the other side, where lions sleep and fields are dry...

[Rev. Simmons to Tommy:]

Unless you want to be there... Don't ever let your darkened side win

Alight your path and bless your heart, no reason to enslave your mind

[Rev. Simmons to George:]

Unless you want to be there... (Do you want to be there?)

And leave the world without any trace of us

You can always change your mind, don't hide again that part of you

[George:]

Hey man, I'm stuck here and feel betrayed by you

[Tommy:]

Hey you, believe in what's real without any proof

[Rev. Simmons:]

(Thy will be done...)

Hey man, your enemy lies inside of you...

(Thy will be done...)

Hey you, will you ever erase the World with a nuke?

... With a Nuke... With a Nuke...

...With a Nuke... Oh, my...
